Purpose of TCCI

To assess a football teams likelihood of winning the league title by considering their historical performance, difensive, attacking skill during the season and the financial power of the teams.

This index can help to identify the favourites track changes in title contention through the seasons and potentially spot under performance teams.

Data

The index was build using the data available from Optascore and TransferMarkt.

The first one was useful to collect information for the analysis for the game stats.

The second one was used to analyze the financial status and the investment made by the football societies.

We have considered the data from the season 2015/2016 to the session 2022/2023

Methodologies

The analysis was conducted in time series in order to compare the actual rank with the index one.

For this reason we have used the AMPI method since the individual indicators are normalized by a re-scaling according to two «goalposts», i.e. a minimum and a maximum value which represent the possible range of each variable of all time variable and for all units.

Such type of normalization allow to perform absolute comparisons over time

Then the TCCI is composed by 4 weighted sub index :

$TCCI = 0.3 * \text{Off index} + 0.3 * \text{Dif index} + 0.2 * \text{Hist performance} + 0.2 * \text{Mark index}$
